pharmaceutical calculations 14th edition didgo: The Rise of Corporate Religious Liberty Micah Jacob Schwartzman, Chad Flanders, Zoë Robinson, 2016 What are the rights of religious institutions? Should those rights extend to for-profit corporations? Houses of worship have claimed they should be free from anti-discrimination laws in hiring and firing ministers and other employees. Faith-based institutions, including hospitals and universities, have sought exemptions from requirements to provide contraception. Now, in a surprising development, large for-profit corporations have succeeded in asserting rights to religious free exercise. The Rise of Corporate Religious Liberty explores this corporate turn in law and religion. Drawing on a broad range perspectives, this book examines the idea of freedom of the church, the rights of for-profit corporations, and the implications of the Supreme Court's landmark decision in Burwell v. Hobby Lobby for debates on anti-discrimination law, same-sex marriage, health care, and religious freedom.
